Great question — because “inmek” does NOT equal one single verb in English. The verb changes depending on the situation.

□ Getting off a vehicle

Situation	English Verb
Get off a bus	get off the bus
Get off a plane	get off the plane
Get off a train	get off the train
Leave a car/taxi	get out of the car / taxi

Examples:

- I got off the bus at the next stop.
- She got out of the car quickly.

□ Use get off for public transport
□ Use get out of for cars/taxis

⬇ Moving from a higher place to a lower place

Situation	English Verb
Go down stairs	go down the stairs
Descend a mountain	come down the mountain
Go down a hill	go down the hill

Examples:

- He went down the stairs.
- They came down the mountain at night.

□ Decreasing / going down (figurative)

Situation	English Verb
Prices decreased	prices went down
Fever reduced	the fever went down
Water level decreased	the water level dropped

✈️ For airplanes

Situation	English Verb
A plane “inmek”	the plane landed

Example:

- The plane landed safely.

📝 Summary

“Inmek” can mean:

- get off (bus, train, plane)
- get out of (car, taxi)
- go down / come down (movement downward)
- go down / drop (decrease)
- land (airplane)

So in English, the correct verb depends on the context, not a single word.

Can you give me more examples for this please

Love that you’re digging deeper — this is exactly how vocabulary becomes natural
Here are MORE real-life examples for each meaning.

🚇 GET OFF (public transport)

- We got off the metro at Taksim station.

□ Quick comparison

✗I got down the bus → wrong
✓I got off the bus

✗I got off the car → wrong
✓I got out of the car

If you want, next we can do a mini speaking drill where you describe your day using these verbs — great for fluency.

Give me other examples please and a little bit explanation

Perfect — let's make it even clearer with new examples + short explanations.

□ GET OFF (leaving public transport)

We use this for bus, train, plane, metro, ship.

- I got off the bus too early by mistake.
  ➜I left the bus before my stop.
- They got off the train in Ankara.
  ➜They left the train there.
- She got off the plane and felt tired.
  ➜She left the aircraft after landing.
- Many people got off at the city center.
  ➜They exited the vehicle at that stop.

□ GET OUT OF (leaving a car or small vehicle)

Used for car, taxi, truck, van.

- He got out of the car to open the gate.
  ➜He exited the vehicle.
- I got out of the taxi near my house.
  ➜I left the taxi.
- She got out of the truck carefully.
  ➜She exited the vehicle safely.

□ Difference:
Big/public transport → get off
Small/private vehicle → get out of

⬇ GO DOWN / COME DOWN (physical downward movement)

- She went down the stairs quietly.
  ➜She moved from upstairs to downstairs.
- The cat came down from the roof.
  ➜The cat moved to a lower place.
- We went down to the beach.
  ➜Movement from higher land to lower area.

  ➜It became colder.
- Food prices dropped this month.
  ➜Prices decreased.
- His stress level went down after the holiday.
  ➜He felt less stress.
- The volume went down suddenly.
  ➜The sound level decreased.

□ LAND (aircraft)

- The plane landed smoothly.
  ➜The aircraft touched the ground safely.
- Our flight landed earlier than expected.
  ➜The plane arrived sooner.

□ One Turkish verb “inmek” = many English verbs

Because English describes the type of action, not just “down”.

Meaning	Verb
Vehicle exit	get off / get out of
Move downward	go down / come down
Decrease	go down / drop
Plane	land
